Section 316 Rights of Watchers While Ballots are Being Assembled While the councilmanic ballot boxes are being sent to the central counting place any watcher appointed under the provisions of Section 312 to represent any councilmanic candidate in a voting place shall have the right to accompany the ballot box from the voting place to which he was assigned until it is properly delivered at the central counting place Provided however that if a group of ballot boxes are being taken together not more than one watcher of the same candidate shall have the right to accompany them at the same time

Section 317 Checking the District Returns At such time as the court of common pleas shall direct but beginning not later than noon of the Friday next following the election the councilmanic ballot boxes shall be opened and the number of councilmanic ballots found in each box shall be recorded and compared with the record sent from the corresponding election district The records thus compared shall be made available to the public with notations explaining any corrections made therein If any discrepancy appears which can not be reconciled it shall be shown on the records All ballots found in the ballot boxes which bear no evidence of having been improperly cast shall be accepted

Section 318 Valid and Invalid Ballots The ballots in each ballot box shall also be examined fo rvalidity and those which are found to be invalid or blank shall be separated from the rest The number of valid ballots from each election district and the total number of valid ballots shall be recorded A ballot shall be held invalid if it does not clearly show which candidate the voter prefers to all others or if it contains any word mark or other sign apparently intended to identify the voter Every ballot not thus invalid shall be counted according to the intent of the voter so far as that can be clearly ascertained whether marked according to the directions printed on it or not No ballot shall be held invalid because it is marked in ink or indelible pencil or because the names of candidates thereon for whom the voter did not mark a choice have been stricken out A single cross on a ballot on which no figure appears shall be considered equivalent to the figure one If a ballot contains both figures and crosses the order of choice shown by the figures shall be taken as the voter's intention in so far as the order is clearly indicated If the consecutive numerical order of the figures is broken by the omission of one or more figures the smallest number marked shall be taken to indicate the voter's first choice the next smallest his second and so on without regard to the figure or figures omitted

Section 319 Ballots Wrongly Deposited in the Councilmanic Ballot Box If any ballots other than councilmanic ballots are found in a ballot box they shall be promptly sealed in a separate envelope which shall be marked on the outside to indicate what ballots and how many are contained in it the election district in which they were cast and the fact that they were wrongly deposited in the councilmanic ballot box They shall then be sent to the judges of the court of common pleas appointed to compute and certify the returns of votes cast for other officers at the same election who shall examine them and make the proper additions to the returns received from the several election districts

Section 320 Rules for Determining the Results When all the councilmanic ballots have been checked for number and validity the valid ballots shall be examined and the results of the election determined under the supervision of the director of the count according to the following rules

(1) Each candidate shall be credited with one vote for every ballot that is sorted to him as first choice or otherwise credited to him as hereinafter provided and no ballot shall ever be credited to more than one candidate at the same time

(2) The quota of votes sufficient for the election of a councilman shall be the smallest number of ballots which could be received separately by each of us as many candidates as are to be elected but not by one more It shall be determined by dividing the total number of valid ballots by one more than the total number of councilmen to be elected and adding one to the result disregarding fractions

(3) The ballots shall first be sorted to the credit of the first choices marked on them the ballots from the different election districts being sorted in an order of the districts determined by lot in the presence of the candidates or their representatives Provided however that if the city is divided into wards the ballots of all the districts of each ward may be sorted together the wards instead of the individual districts being arranged in an order determined by lot and Provided further that the ballots of any number of districts or wards consecutive in the order so determined may be sorted together simultaneously

(4) Whenever at any stage of the counting the number of ballots credited to a candidate becomes equal to the quota he shall be declared elected and no ballots in excess of the quota shall be credited to him

(5) If a candidate is elected while the ballots are being sorted according to first choices any subsequent ballots which show him as first choice shall each be credited to the second choice marked on it or if the second choice has also been elected to the next choice marked on it for a candidate not yet elected

(6) If during the first sorting of ballots some ballots are found which are marked for a candidate already elected as first choice but show no clear choice for any unelected candidate such ballots shall at the end of the sorting be given to the candidate of their first choice and in their place an equal number as nearly as possible of the last ballots sorted to that candidate which do show a clear choice for unelected candidates shall be taken and re-sorted to unelected candidates as if they were then being sorted for the first time

(7) When all the ballots have been thus sorted and credited to the first available choices marked on them every candidate who has fewer ballots to his credit than the number of signatures required for nomination without a deposit of money as provided in Section 301 of this act shall be declared defeated

(8) All the ballots of the candidates thus defeated shall be transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the continuing candidates A "continuing candidate" is a candidate not yet elected or defeated Any ballot taken for transfer which does not clearly indicate any candidate as next choice among the continuing candidates shall be set aside as "exhausted"

(9) When all the ballots of the candidates thus defeated have been transferred the one candidate who is then lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred in the same way

(10) Thereupon the candidate who is then lowest shall be declared defeated and all his ballots similarly transferred Thus candidates shall be declared defeated one at a time and all their ballots transferred

(11) If when a candidate is to be declared defeated two or more candidates are tied at the bottom of the poll that one of the tied candidates shall be declared defeated who was credited with fewest ballots just before the last transfer of ballots If two or more of the tied candidates were tied at that stage of the count also the second tie shall be decided by referring similarly to the standing of the candidates just before the last transfer of ballots before that This principle shall be applied successively as many times as may be necessary a tie shown at any stage of the count being decided by referring to the standing of the tied candidates just before the last preceding transfer of ballots

Any tie in the counting procedure not otherwise provided for in this act shall be decided by lot

In interpreting this and other rules the transfer of all ballots from candidates defeated together under rule (7) and the transfer of all ballots from each candidate defeated thereafter shall each be considered a single separate transfer

(12) If at any time candidates to the number to be elected have received the quota any transfer of ballots in progress when the last quota was reached shall be completed but immediately thereafter all continuing candidates shall be declared defeated and the election shall be at an end

(13) If at any time all ballots of any defeated candidates have been transferred and it is impossible to defeat another candidate without reducing the continuing candidates below the number still to be elected all the continuing candidates shall be declared elected and the election shall be at an end

(14) A record of the count shall be kept in such form as to show after each sorting or transfer of ballots the number thereby credited to each candidate the number thereby found exhausted the total for each candidate the total found exhausted and the total number of valid ballots found by adding the totals of all candidates and the total found exhausted

(15) Every ballot that is transferred from one candidate to another shall be stamped or marked so that its entire course from candidate to candidate can be conveniently traced

(16) If in correcting an error any ballots are resorted or retransferred every ballot shall be made to take the same course that it took in the original count unless the correction of an error requires its taking a different course These principles shall apply also to any recount except in connection with the filling of a vacancy which may be made after the original count has been completed

Section 321 Recesses for Counting Staff The director of the count and his assistants shall proceed with reasonable expedition in the counting of the ballots but may take recesses or adjourn from day to day at the discretion of the director The court of common pleas shall make proper provision for the safe keeping of the ballots while the counting is not in progress During any such time from the time the ballots first begin to arrive at the central counting place until the time for appeals from the final result has expired any three or more candidates shall have the right to have present with facilities for keeping all the ballots or their containers in full view one representative appointed by them in writing Candidates may change their representatives from time to time No representative shall be allowed to handle any ballots while the counting is not in progress unless he does so under the direct supervision of the director of the count

Section 322 Public Supervision of the Count Every facility for witnessing the count that is consistent with good order shall be given to the public and to representatives of the public press Special facilities including the privilege of mingling with the counting staff and examining any of the ballots closely shall be given to any person who may be appointed in writing as their representative for the purpose by at least three candidates whose names are printed on the ballot and who have not shared in the appointment of any other person for this purpose Any such representative shall have the right to designate in writing an alternate to act in his place during any time when he may be absent

Section 323 Appeals The findings of the counting staff shall be accepted as final unless appeal is made therefrom to the director of the count by a candidate or his agent or representative within one hour If such an appeal is made and not sustained the aggrieved party or his agent may appeal from the director's decision to the court of common pleas not later than two days after the counting has been completed Any such appeal to the court shall be made in writing under oath shall set forth the grounds for the appeal made to the director and his decision thereon and shall be accompanied by a deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25) which shall be returned if the review of the count as herein provided for changes the personnel of the council elected or the final disposition of as many as twenty-five (25) votes Two or more decisions of the director may be appealed from in a single appeal When an appeal has been thus filed the court of common pleas shall forthwith examine the records of the count and cause to be re-examined and recounted under its direction such of the ballots as may be necessary in order to determine the points at issue While any such recount is being made and until it is completed all the provisions and safeguards governing the original count shall remain in force If a recount shall result in a change in the membership of the council announced as elected the previous announcement shall be rescinded by the court of common pleas and new announcements shall be made in accordance with the new results

Section 324 Preservation of Ballots The ballots cast at each election of the council shall be preserved by the court of common pleas until the term of the members elected thereby has expired and shall be available for examination under the supervision of the court of common pleas on written application signed by fifty (50) or more registered electors and the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) Such application shall name not more than three representatives of the applicants to make such examination

The ballots credited to each successful candidate at the end of the election shall be kept separate form the rest as the ballots which elected him and all the other valid ballots shall be kept together as exhausted

Section 325 Information Concerning Ballots Before the first day of January following each election of the council the court of common pleas shall cause the councilmanic ballots to be examined and shall cause to be filed in the office of the prothonotary for the information of the public a statement showing

(a) The number of first-choice ballots cast for each candidate in each election district

(b) The number of ballots from each election district finally counted for each of the elected candidates

(c) The number of the exhausted ballots from each election district which showed one or more choices for elected candidates and the number which did not

(d) The number of invalid ballots cast in each election district the causes of invalidity and the number of ballots from each election district held invalid for each cause

(e) The number of blank ballots cast in each election district

(f) The numbers of first choices second choices third choices and so on used in the election of each of the elected candidates

(g) Such other information in regard to the ballots as the court of common pleas may deem of interest

Section 326 Voting Machines The council shall have power to provide for the use of voting machines or other devices for marking and sorting the ballots and tabulating the results and to modify the form of the ballot the directions to voters and the details in respect to the method of assembling counting and trasferrig ballots accordingly Provided however that no change shall be made which will alter the principles of the voting or of the counting

Section 327 Vacancies in the Council If a seat in the council becomes vacant it shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by a public recount of the ballots by which it was filled at the municipal election at which the council in office was chosen This recount shall be conducted under the supervision of the court of common pleas according to the following rules

(1) All choices marked for members of the council in office or for candidates who have become ineligible or have expressed to the court of common pleas in writing their desire to withdraw shall be disregarded

(2) The ballots shall be sorted each to the earliest choice marked on it for any of the eligible candidates

(3) If any candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show any preference among these candidates he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(4) If no candidate has to his credit more than half of the ballots which show such a preference every candidate who has no ballots to his credit shall be declared defeated

(5) Thereupon the remaining candidate lowest on the poll shall be declared defeated and all his ballots transferred each to the candidate indicated on it as next choice among the undefeated candidates

(6) Thus lowest canidates shall be declared defeated one after another and all their ballots transferred until some candidate is credited with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together

(7) As soon as one candidate is credited with more ballots than all the other undefeated candidates together he shall be declared elected to the vacant place

(8) Except as herein otherwise provided and except that the rules for assembling and checking the ballots and those regarding the quota may be disregarded the recount shall be governed by the provisions for the original count

(9) If two or more vacancies occur at the same time they shall be filled separately in the order in which they are certified by the council to the court of common pleas

If a vacancy occurs for which no regularly nominated candidates remain the council may by a majority vote of the remaining members appoint a qualified person to fill it for the remainder of the unexpired term If all the places on the council should become vacant at once the court of common pleas shall call a special election of members to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term Any such election shall be held as nearly as practicable according to the provisions for a regular election of the council

ARTICLE IV

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 402 Legislative Intent in Case of Partial Invalidity It is the intention of the general assembly that if this act cannot take effect in its entirety because of the judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction holding unconstitutional any part or parts thereof the remaining provisions of the act shall be given full force and effect as completely as if the part or parts held unconstitutional had not been included herein

Section 403 Short Title This act may be known and cited as the Proportional Representation-City Manager Act for Cities Not of the First Class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is what is commonly known as the optional city manager bill. It simply sets up for the cities of Pennsylvania the form of government built around the city manager plan. A strict example of that kind of government is to be found in the city of Cincinnati, Ohio. There are some four hundred communities in the Unities States which have this form of government. In the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we allow boroughs to have borough managers, but we deny to the cities this privilege. This bill is purely an optional measure. It sets up the plan and then it says to the voters, "You may take it or you may leave it alone." If the voters desire a change in their form of government it is necessary for them to secure ten per cent of the voters in the last previous election on a petition to council asking for the submission of the question. After the question is placed on the ballot, it requires a majority vote of the electors in order to adopt this form of government for that particular city, and of course if the proposition is voted down the status quo of that city remains. It is an American principle and it is a practical principle. We are imposing nothing upon the cities. We are giving them the opportunity to change if they are dissatisfied with their form of government and having changed, if they don't like it, they have the privlege under this act of returning in two years back to their original form of government.

I introduced this bill on behalf of a group of citizens in Pittsburgh. I have been literally bombarded with letters, petitions, telegrams and resolutions. Back of it is the Chamber of Commerce and fourteen organizations affiliated with the allied boards, various social clubs and service clubs and other organizations in addition, and a large number of individual letters and individual petitions. For the first time within my recollection, every newspaper in the city of Pittsburgh is a unit in support of this bill, and practically also every weekly newspaper is asking for the support of this measure. I appeal for an affirmative vote on this bill on the grounds that it is simply an American proposition. If the people have sense enough to elect us down here to represent them, they certainly have sense enough to choose the kind of government under which they wish to live.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I cannot agree with my good friend from Washington, Mr. Moore, on the advisability of changing our form of city government at this time. All change is not progress. Sometimes I think that progress goes around in circles. About twenty years ago the tendency was to give extreme and increased power to the people in the matter of government. We had then the agitation for the election of senators by the direct vote of the people contrary to the then provisions of the Constitution. There was agitated then with great force the principle of the initiative and the referendum and the recall of judges by the people. Now the only thing that I have heard for the recall of judges or anything in the nature of judges for a long time is the present agitation for the recall of the Public Service Commission.

In 1923, which was my first session in the Legislature, there was at that time a great agitation for a change of government from the old bicameral system of third class city government, which practically all third class cities had at that time. There were two kinds of governmental changes proposed, one was the Clark system, and the other was the Beidleman plan which provided for a single council and a mayor. At that time, the same as now, there was a great demand, at least an apparent demand on the part of a great many civic bodies and representatives from the third class cities, by lodges, clubs and organizations of every description, demanding a change of government for third class cities, and the preponderance of the demand seemed to point toward the Clark system which we now have, and in accordance with that demand, or the supposed demand, we changed the form of third-class city government to the present Clark system of government. Now, when that system was adopted, it was apparently the best system of State government that could be thought out. It seemed to be the epitome of everything that was right, that was good, that was desirable in city government, and it was in response to that demand for a general change that we have had in third class cities the Clark system for a period of about eighteen years. Now, there is a demand for a more extensive change, and instead of giving the people more power, we propose to impose upon the people an autocratic form of government known as a city manager. I presume that the ablest and most distinguished city manager that the world has ever seen was Julius Caesar, when he was city manager of Rome, and that was at the time, as you know, when Cicero and Cato were singing the swan song of the death of the republic.

Now, if cities of the third class do not have good government at the present time, whose fault is it? Is it the fault of the Legislature? Is it the fault of the system? Is it the fault of the law? No, it is not. It is the fault of the people themselves. The people, whenever they make up their minds to have good government, are perfectly able and competent to choose good, worthy public servants who reside in their community and will represent them as they desire to be represented, and I can see no reason why we should now change the whole machinery of our city government in order that we may import from some place outside of the city or outside of the State some superman who can rule our city when we cannot. I say to the people in any city that doesn't have the proper kind of city rule, that has become lax in its methods of government, that has elected unworthy public officials, it is for the people themselves to go to the polls and assert their rights and prerogatives of electing the proper kind of representatives to represent them. Why sir, this bill is a concession that the republican form of government is a failure, that the people cannot elect the proper kind of representatives, and that therefore they are going to surrender their greatly prized right that was given to us at the time of the formation of this Republic, and delegate that right to some outsider to come in and rule our city. I don't believe, Mr. Speaker, that the time has come when we desire a radical change such as is proposed in this bill; when we desire an autocrat to rule our cities, and take from the mayor and the councils of the cities the powers that still belong to them and which the people feel they should have and which they have exercised with ability and will continue to exercise with ability and integrity.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want you to open the bill at Article 2 and Section 202. Now you will notice Section 202 provides what the gentleman just got through saying. You are going to take the power, the right to vote, away from the people and put it in the hands of the people who are supposed to be elected by the people, and in turn abolish all elective officers. In other words, it is my opinion a bill of this kind is an assault upon the common sense of the people of the city of Pittsburgh and of any other city that adopts a bill of this kind. I agree with the gentleman who just spoke. Is it not a fact that about fourteen years ago the constitution of the United States was amended and took away from a few people the right to elect our senators? Today our United States Senators are elected by the people.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill if enacted into law is but a forerunner to something else. Now, the bill states that it is going to give a proportional representation. That is all right. When we get a system like this instituted in the city of Pittsburgh, or any other city, and you say that the people have the right within a period of two years to change that system, it is a mighty hard thing to do that when you once get them that way. I agree with the gentleman who just spoke, it is not up to a few people to decide what kind of government we should have. It should be up to the majority of the people. Now we are going to give the power to the councilmen to choose a man as city manager. He may be brught from God knows where. He may be brought over from Ireland, it would be all right if he was, or some place else. Nevertheless, do we not have men and women intelligent enough in our cities to conduct the affairs of the city intelligently and efficiently?

Another thing I wish to call your attention to in this bill before the House—I am looking at my notes here—is that it has been given some advertising, just some, but let me say to the ladies and gentlemen of the House, this bill is not as important as the Pittsburgh papers and the other papers wish you to believe it is. Now, for instance, I have at this session of the Legislature—I don't mean to digress, but don't interrupt or anybody call me down, for I will go on anyhow—I have at this session of the Legislature introduced twenty bills and not one of them has been reported out from the committee. One of these bills I introduced in the session of 1927 and again in the session of 1929, and again in this session, and that bill was to give to the people of the State of Pennsylvania the right to decide on questions of their own government. Now, our newspapers and these women's clubs from the city of Pittsburgh have not written you telegrams and letters stating that you should vote for the Dunn bill. My bill is a real democratic bill. They haven't written you and told you to support that.

In this session of the Legislature I introduced a bill which has not had any advertising from these people, a bill which asks for an appropriation of four millions of dollars to give relief to the starving people of Pennsylvania. My good friend Dr. Steedle and Senator Scott agreed to let me hold a joint session of the Appropriations Committees of the House and the Senate. We had present at that meeting members of the State Federation of Labor and from the east and the west and the north and the south, they told that committee that it was necessary to report his bill out. Did they do it? They would have done it if we could have got the advertising that this bill got. That was a helpful bill, that is what the State Federation of Labor said; and they pointed out the fact that people were starving to death. The Pitsburgh papers on Saturday morning came out and told where an ex-soldier was out of work and actually starved to death. Did my bill get consideration and advertising at the hands of these people? It did not. I desire to say this, if these people who are interested in this bill will really tell the people of Pittsburgh and the other cities just exactly what it means I venture to say it comes to deciding that question, the vote against it would be so big that they would not bring it up again for a hundred years, In this bill they would lead you to believe that under the provision of proportional representation, that will give you the right to choose whom you wish. You are going to elect nine councilmen and that is all you are going to vote for, you are not going to vote for any other officer in a third class city. You will have to stand for what they do. It would indicate that they have all of the intelligence and you are not intelligent enough to select representative men and women to represent you.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to close by making these remarks. I have received a number of letters from women's clubs in Pittsburgh. They were discourteous in their tone and even intimidating, but they have not intimidated me a bit, and I want to say that if the voters like these in Pittsburgh and in other places who are so interested in this bill will get behind some other good legislation, they will be more of an asset than they are now.

Mr. BRAHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not arise to speak on this measure, I do not have that ability, but I do rise to place my humble endorsement to this measure. I come from a third class city of twenty-five thousand who are asking for a right to vote on this measure. I therefore ask you to vote that way on this measure.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I take the opportunity of saying just a few words in order that my vote on this bill may be understood not only by the members of this House but by my constituents at home. I am one of the men who are absolutely and teetotally opposed to any change in the organic form of our government. But I do believe after all that all the power is inherent in the people; that they have the right at all times to make such changes in their form of government as to them may seem fit and proper, and when I realize that there are in my own city thousands of people who want an opportunity to be heard upon a measure of this kind and an opportunity sometime or other to vote upon it in some election in Philadelphia, then I feel that I am denying them that opportunity which under the law we certainly ought to give when a reasonable demand in that direction is made. Further, I am going to support the bill for the very reason that the gentleman a moment ago referred to. I want to set an example to some of the men in this House, particularly a committee of this House that has some twelve or fifteen of my bills upon their desk, not one of which has been reported out, nor has the sponsor even been treated with the courtesy of a suggestion that he might have an opportunity to explain them; bills, Mr. Speaker, which vitally affect the health, the liberty, and the happiness not of you but of thousands throughout this Commonwealth who are waiting an opportunity to be heard here by their representatives upon this floor.

In order, Sir, to be consistent and to show that there is within me absolutely a spirit of fairness I am going to vote for a bill which when it becomes a matter of contest in an election in Philadelphia I shall as bitterly fight there as I shall support it now.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that most change when it is first considered is called radical, and so when we apply the term "radical" to some change in government we are very apt to believe that we have squelched it. Many years ago when the women of this country humbly asked the right to vote we were told that this was too radical a measure. After many years of demand of the right of suffrage, greatly because the wave of sentiment became so urgent that it overwhelmed the politicians, it was decided that they should be given that right. The same term was given to the direct primaries and to the direct election of United States Senators when it first came up. I imagine when the ten commandments came down from the Mount, someone said that they were too radical too.

This is not an ordinary bill, it is a change. It gives the people the right to say what they want. We have heard a great many arguments on the floor of this House in this session asking for the right of self-government, to let the people speak for themselves, to which I agree, but I wonder if that same argument does not apply to this bill.

I come from a third class city. This bill not only applies to the city of Pittsburgh but to third class cities, one of which I come from, and I believe that the people have sense enough to say for themselves what kind of government they want. I think it is a part of your business to give them the right and to give them their voice in the matter. This bill is permissive, it is optional, and it does not take away their right but rather adds to that right. I think the bill is a good one. I think it is probably a new department in Pennsylvania but Cleveland and Cincinnati and cities of smaller size in other states have adopted this principle and have found it to be a good form of government. If it is a better form of government, let us find that out for ourselves and not confine it to the State of Ohio. I think you should support the bill.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I know of no bill presented at this session that received so much juggling, made a football of, or passed in and out of committee so much. The sponsor of the bill always manifested a spirit of no interest. This bill was introduced probably in the second week of the session. We representatives from the western part of the State asked the sponsor of the bill, "Will this bill be heard immediately, or will it have some delay?" He informed me that the bill was given to him, and he so stated from this floor, by a number of gentlemen from the city of Pittsburgh who formed the membership of the Chamber of Commerce. However true that may be, and I do not question it, but I ask every one of you ladies and gentlemen if you live in a community of any size, if the Chamber of Commerce, your businessmen's association, your Rotarains and your Kiwanis, whatever the title may be, if there are not always a few members among that class who are finding fault with the administrative form of government. I am sure that if the Man of Calvary were to come back to this world today he would find it a total impossibility to satisfy the minds of each individual as to what he would like to have the picture be to him. So, therefore, we will accept the argument that the Chamber of Commerce gave to Mr. Moore this bill. But let us see who these men may be. They are the type that I said before, they are always finding fault with somebody; who are always willing to criticize and on many occasions they offer no remedy except something that is drastic or to their minds will benefit themselves individually. That is a specialty of a lot of these men you find among the Chambers of Commerce and other organizations of the type.

Why, if this bill has so many good features in it, as the gentleman from Washington would have you believe, why is the biggest city in the State not included in the bill? What has happened behind that? He has some ulterior motive or he would not have taken it out of there, but he says it is good for the second class and the third class but not for the first class city. He may not so state in words, but that is the conclusion we may draw. I have no fault to find with Philadelphia. If they have been able to deal with the gentleman so that they may not be molested or interferred with, why, I say, more power to them and more power to him, because after it is all said and done, legislation to my knowledge in this House, and I assume that it applies not only here but in Washington and probably in every other State in the Union, is merely a question of "log rolling", so even in view of the fact that he admits it is so good, he takes out the largest city of the State and says, "We will try it first in what they call in theatrical terms 'the dog' ". He says, "We will take it out to the country towns, out among the suburbanites of Pittsburgh. If it fits well there, we will come back and sic it on the city of Philadelphia." Then after they try it out they say, "It is a good show," and as another theatrical term says,, "It is a wow."

An so, ladies and gentlemen, going back to the serious side of this picture, he tells us that this is so innocent; it is merely a city manager bill; just a city manager bill. Mr. Richards refers to it and instead of using the term "radical" he says it is an experiment and probably it may work well and ought to go before the people to decide for themselves. I am of the opinion that the people of the city of Pittsburgh are perfectly content and satisfied with their direct representative vote where they have the opportunity of electing their officers.

Mr. Dunn referred to Section 202 of Article 2 and I just want to read that part of it. He was unable to read it to you. I read it as follows: "The council shall have the same number of members as the legislative body it succeeds." It says further, "In a city in which the city manager form of government is in effect under the provisions of this act, no city officials shall be elected by the voters except members of the council. All other officials shall be appointed as hereinafter provided." Here he is taking away from the people of Pittsburgh the fundamental principles of democracy. We challenge any other part of the State of Pennsylvania to say if our people are not qualified to elect councilmen, whether they are not qualified to elect a mayor, whether they are not qualified to elect a controller, and yet he is going to rip right away from them that right which the constitution gives to us. He says we shall elect nothing else but five members of council——

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to ask the gentleman from Allegheny what interpretation he places upon Article 2 of Section 202 which provides that "under the provisions of this act no city officials shall be elected by the voters except members of the council. All other officials shall be appointed as hereinafter provided." Does the gentleman from Allegheny interpret that as I do to mean that the city controller would be appointed by the city manager?

Mr. STEEDLE. Absolutely. I see no reason for any other interpretation than that.

Let us turn back to another page, let us turn to page 8, in paragraph (d), "appoint and remove all department heads and all other officers except those appointed by council or elected by the voters as provided in this act and those appointed by his subordinates."

As long as I have been coming to this Legislature, which is since 1913, I have heard the cry session after session, from our cities of the second class, and our cities of the third class and even now our boroughs have come to us, asking for civil service rights. This bill fundamentally destroys civil service. It rips all of these employees out of office; it takes that away and says to the councilmen, "Now you are vested with powers which nobody else shall have." Even the people's rights shall be destroyed and the man working on the streets would no longer be protected by civil service; it rips them out of office.

Now ladies and gentlemen, as I have said before, I know of no bill that was presented before this body that received so much advertising. Members of the city of Pittsburgh district have received plenty of advertising for this bill. Why, even the reporters themselves, instead of attending to their business as reporters, absolutely have turned lobbyists. That is their business today; they are lobbyists; and then the gentleman from Washington tells us that the papers of the city of Pittsburgh are all unanimously for this bill. I want to answer him by saying there are two papers in the city of Pittsburgh owned by practically the same corporation. We don't have an independent newspaper in the city of Pittsburgh. These newspapers are owned by men in the city of Cleveland and in the city of New York and today we have instead of men being reporters for newspapers men who have turned lobbyists. That is what we have to put up with. Every man is criticized, condemned, interviewed, and was asked to give an expression as to how he would vote on the city manager plan two, three and four weeks ago. They were not satisfied to wait until the vote might be had on the floor, but they have learned one thing in lobbying, and that is, to poll the House. They will ask you, "How will you vote, and how will YOU vote," and then the next day appears in the column of the newspaper a nice article. It will say, "Mr. So-and-So says I will express my opinion Monday night," or "I am against it," or "I am for it." In their selfish interest to destroy what they think is an organization in the city of Pittsburgh, (and let them interpret it as to whether it is good or bad,) the people of the city of Pittsburgh created that organization and they are satisfied by a great majority with their coucilmen and mayor and controller, and prefer that they shall be elected and not be appointed. And so, ladies and gentlemen, I plead with you, I ask you to allow us to be undisturbed. If it is good enough for the city of Pittsburgh, I say it is doubly good enough for the city of Philadelphia, and they should be included too, and if it is not good enough for Philadelphia, then we don't want to be the try-out gang and we ask you just to leave us alone and we are satisfied with our form of government and I ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am only going to consume about two minutes. I think it is necessary to say what I have in mind. So much has been said in the papers by speakers this afternoon about allowing the people to decide the question for themselves and to give them an opportunity to vote on it. In 1927 I wished to do this very thing with the bill I introduced when the same people who are now talking about fair play were the ones who were instrumental in 1927 in defeating the old age pension bill, at which time our good friends from Philadelphia stood solidly, (and may they live forever for doing that,) but when it came to the final point, the same people who are now hollering "fair play" did not let the people of Pennsylvania decide that question. So I don't know what has happened. Have they been reformed by some mysterious being? Nevertheless I want to say to you, ladies and gentlemen, that if you vote for this bill you are voting to take the right away from the citizens of Pittsburgh and third class cities to govern themselves.

Mr. CARMANY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, having introduced this bill, or rather reported it from the committee, I have been interested in it from its inception, and we have used it in our district as a "football," taking copies of the bill to local men who had exceptional intelligence, such as the honorable judge of the county, and others, and the reports we received from these citizens was this: That it is a great forward step to a better government in the cities. This is not only the opinion of the honorable judge, but also of the mayor of our leading city, and of our newspapers, and of the Chamber of Commerce. It seems to me that most of the opposition to this bill comes not from an organization, but rather from individual politicians. I am certain, Mr. Speaker, that the sentiment among my constituents favorable to city management government is not among the disgruntled type, as has been stated here, but it comes from the very highest type of men of integrity. I want to also say that this sentiment for it comes from organizations and I wonder if the gentleman from Allegheny is afraid that if this House should pass this bill that the city of Pittsburgh would ask for a city manager.

It occurs to me that he is afraid that that is going to happen if this bill is passed. We are not forcing it upon Pittsburgh, but some of us are asking that we may have the privilege of adopting the city manager plan of government and I am voicing not only my own opinion but the opinion of my constituents in asking that we be granted this privilege. We are not trying to force this upon anyone else, but we do ask that we may be granted the privilege of having the city manager form of government if we so desire.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no desire to prolong this debate. I have listened to this with a great deal of interest and the propositions advanced both for and against the bill. I cannot escape the conviction that the best argument in favor of your vote for this bill comes from the speeches of the opponents to it. One of these speakers said that by the passage of this bill we are imposing upon the people of our various cities a new form of government. We are not doing any such thing. We are simply setting up a new form of government and laying it before them and saying, "You can take it or you can leave it alone." This bill was introduced on January 27th. The long time that it has been before the House was due to the fact that the sponsor, who happened also to be chairman of the committee having this bill in charge, held the bill in committee at the request of opponents of the bill, and after the chairman had held the bill a considerable time, and after a discussion of it with the gentlemen, and after the chairman had had a conference with Mayor Kline and after discussing it with him, and I have a copy of the letter before me, I said in view of the demand that had come to me personally and to other members of the committee for action on the bill, I thought it necessary to bring the bill out if possible and to my letter to him to that effect I received no reply. I tried to play fair with him, and the bill is out on the floor for a vote. We are simply asking for the same thing that we asked for when we submitted ourselves to our constituents as candidates; the right to choose or to reject us, and if they have that right they have the right to choose or to reject the form of government that they may wish to have set up for them.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Moore.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Moore, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman said in his original argument that there was an American principle involved in this plan. Did he mean by that the local option feature?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. I meant by that of course the local option feature.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker, am I to take from that that the gentleman approves the local option feature?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I do.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, a great deal of misinformation has been circulated in regard to this bill; I think because it is not understood.

This bill came over from the Senate; it is Senator Harvey's bill; and it was given a public hearing by the House Committee on Public Utilities. It has been very severely amended until we think we have a conservative, good bill that ought to pass.

This bill provides for the incorporation of a water supply district by a court of common pleas. This district may be a county, it may be part of a county, it may be part of two or more counties, but the jurisdiction will reside in the county wherein the greater number of consumers live at the time of its incorporation. The bill provides that only such parts may be taken over of different counties as may reasonably and conveniently be included in the district.

I have been told that Warren County might take over parts of Dauphin County. That is absurd. It says that it must be such as in the opinion of the court may reasonably and conveniently be taken over into the district and it certainly would not be convenient for Warren County to take over any part of Dauphin County having the same water works. The bill provides that two thousand, or more, property owners or those owning half, or more, of the property in the district may appear before the court for the incorporation of a water supply district. The court thereupon fixes a date for the hearing, and that is advertised in the papers in the district. At the time of the hearing the petitioners must show to the court that it will be for the best interests of the district to incorporate it, and that that district can furnish a proper and adequate supply of water at reasonable rates. I am going to repeat that: they must show that it is for the best interests of the district and that they can furnish a proper and adequate supply of water at reasonable rates. I do not see how any one can object to that provision. The court will appoint three directors to take charge of the affairs of the company, and their duties will be similar to those of any corporation, but, in addition to that, they have the right to levy taxes up to three mills. They have the power to arrange for the collection of taxes in that district, and to make discounts, penalties or exemptions the same as other corporations. The salary of the directors is fixed by the court of common pleas, and it must not be more than $6,000. They have the right to make contracts, but this bill has been amended so that any contract of $500, or more, must be approved by the court of common pleas. They have the right to sell the property also, but that is under the jurisdiction of the court and must also be approved. The secretary and treasurer perform duties similar to those in any regular corporation, but at the end of the year the court will appoint a certified public accountant who will audit the books. The accountant will have the right to surcharge any money illegally spent, to employ an attorney and also to subpoena witnesses and compel them to testify in regard to any irregularities in the company. After the audit is finished it is published and also filed with the court of common pleas, and this, I think, is a very wise provision. There is not much chance of fraud if the accounts are audited every year by a certified public accountant. That, in brief, is the organization and the method of conducting the business. Another part of the bill is the exercise of the right of eminent domain. In this bill we have inclined to the belief that cities of the first and second class, including Erie, shall be exempt from the provisions of this bill. The bill further provides that no municipally owned water company may be taken over without the consent of the majority of the electors at a special or general election. I am going to repeat that too—it is the most important amendment that the House made to the Senate Bill—that no municipally owned corporation may be taken over without the consent of the majority of the electors of that district. As far as I know, the people served by municipal plants are satisfied, and I do not believe that you could get two percent of the electors owning their own water works to vote to give them up. I think that makes it safe for all municipally owned water works.

Now, they also have the right to appropriate streams, springs, lakes and so forth subject to the restrictions imposed upon them by the various water boards, such as the Water and Power Resources Board, the Sanitary Water Board and the Board of Forests and Waters.

We have also arranged it so that one plant may take over the source of supply of any other plant without taking over all the property.

As to the method of valuation of the property, we have tried to fix that so it would be fair to the water companies as well as to those who are purchasing them. If there is anything in the charter of a private corporation whereby they may be taken over, that provision can be used; if not, there is a provision in the bill that provides that the court may appoint three viewers to make an appraisement of the property, one of whom must be a certified public accountant and the other two engineers. I do not see how you can improve upon such a board. They need the public accountant to examine the books to determine the financial condition and they need the engineers to make a physical examination of the property, and it seems to me that that is the only fair way.

A water company is an absolute monopoly and we must control it or take it over. If a municipality wants to take over a plant, it has the right to do so, and this bill sets forth the method of taking over a privately owned plant. Some of you may have had experience in these matters. In Warren we tried for three or four years and had much difficulty under the present law to take over a private water plant, and finally gave it up. This bill is supposed to simplify the method of procedure.

The Committee has been very careful and has considered this bill from every angle, and we think that it is a good. conservative bill for the whole state. I do not know of any of its provisions that might be termed radical, and, as I have said, I believe it is a good bill and that it should pass.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Mumford.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Mumford, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under this bill the water district, the same as any municipally owned plant, would not come under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission; am I right in that?

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker, it does not. It would come under the jurisdiction of the court of common pleas wherein the greater number of consumers resided at the time of incorporation.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, but they have no other regulations beyond that?

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker, well, it is subject to all the regulations of all of the water boards of this State.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I understand that, and also of the health department, but it has no regulations such as any other water company?

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker, no; it does not come under the Public Service Commission.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hesitate to arise at this time and to take your time to say something about this bill. I am especially reluctant to arise in view of the fact that earlier in the day I consumed considerable of your time in other matters. I am, further, reluctant to arise because of the fact that the author of this bill, Senator Harvey, has been a friend of mine since the days we started in school, a friendship that has existed throughout the years. Again, I am reluctant to arise because I know the situation that confronts the people of Luzerne county, and I dislike to oppose a measure that is sponsored by so many friends of mine here in the House, for whom I have the warmest attachment. However, I feel that I have a plain duty to do, and, therefore, no matter whether it does hurt in the future that I have opposed something that is desired by friends I feel it my duty to point out some of the features of this bill.

The bill is a very much better bill than when it came from the Senate. It was extremely defective in its draft, it needed a lot of amendment and it has received a lot of amendment I also thank the sponsors of this bill for having accorded me the courtesy of placing in the bill some of the suggested amendments that I made to them. However, I appeared at the public hearing and made some further suggestions. Some of them have been carried out and some of them have not been carried out.

Under section 20, on page 7, it provides that the court in the county may set up a water district, and in a subsequent portion it provides for a petition by two thousand people. Two thousand is a very small number in Luzerne county, it is an inadequate number in Luzerne county to petition the court, but it might not be so in some of the other counties of the State or in some smaller districts where they desire to petition the court. I feel that the bill, therefore, should grade the number of petitioners based upon the population of the district.

Under section 20 the court has not only the right to set up a water district in the county itself, over which that court has jurisdiction, but it has also the right to go into an adjoining county and include some parts of that adjoining county in that water district. Take, for instance, my friends from Montgomery County. We, in Delaware, night petition the court to set up a water district in Delaware County, and we might ask the court to take in a portion of the Main Line District as we call it, which is represented by my friend, Mr. Peters from Montgomery County. The Main Line District is partly in Delaware and partly in Montgomery County, it is a very populous and a very wealthy district. The assessed valuation of real estate in that district is high. We might, therefore, petition the court in Delaware county to take in a part of Montgomery county, we might only have signers from Delaware county in this petition, and yet the court of Delaware county could decree that a part of Montgomery County should be taken into this water district without the consent of the voters of that county, and although they have a right to object, they have not anything to say beyond their objection to the court. They may be taken into the water district and they not only could be taken into this water district, but this water district has the right to issue liens for the acquisition or the construction of a water plant. It has the right to levy a tax up to three mills, and while you may say that they are a district like a school district that may levy taxes on the county, at the same time every time a tax is levied by some municipal organization in that county, it has a very bad effect upon all the taxes, upon all the borrowing capacity, perhaps not in a legal sense but in the effect upon the people down there, so that the people of Montgomery county and the county authorities would have no opportunity, whether or not they had a right to come into our court to object, if our court felt that they wanted to do it, it could do it.

They have provided for three directors at $6,000 a year. $6,000 a year for three directors to operate a water system in Luzerne County is a very cheap salary to pay. It is a very small salary to pay when you consider the magnitude of a great water plant of a great county of 400,000, but if you come down into some parts of our county, if you go into some other counties in the state and attempt to set up a water district under this act it would be prohibitive at $6,000 a year for these three directors.

It provides that they can levy a tax of three mills. Under our school code, under our township codes, it provides they must set up a budget at the beginning of the year; they must state what expenses are to be paid out of the taxes to be levied and these township school districts have no power to levy taxes beyond that. However, under this provision it merely says they can set up three mills, there is no provision for a budget, and, therefore, it would be held under the former decisions of our courts in this state that the amount that is necessary to pay the interest, sinking fund and state taxes on bonds could be levied by that board in addition to the three mills tax. When you say three mills, that is not the limit of the tax, but under the act as it stands additional taxes might be levied by this group. True, under my suggestion, it has been provided that these directors would have to get the consent of the court before they could issue bonds, but there is a provision in here that they are going to acquire a plant or where they are going to construct one, they can issue liens to the amount of the cost of that construction, which gives them almost unlimited opportunity. There is another provision that I think might be of interest at the moment—I don't want to take the time to look it up. It provides they can buy equipment and supplies. That would, in my mind, permit them to go into competition with the plumbers, with the men in that district who were selling plumbing supplies and material of that kind.

I believe this bill is a departure from the question of municipal ownership; it seems to be just a slight step forward and one that could logically be taken, but when you apply municipal ownership as we have it in this state, you are taking in the people only in one municipality. The people in that municipality have the opportunity to pass upon the things that are to be done, it affects only one homegenous community, but when you get this bill it would take in townships and perhaps boroughs and perhaps cities that do not have municipal plants of their own; you might get groups that have divergent views, divergent interests under this bill. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this bill has not been enough considered, that this bill has not been carefully enough drafted and it should not be passed by this House.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise in defense of this bill realizing that it would have considerable opposition when it came here. I arise to defend this bill not only because it is good, consistent and constructive legislation, not only because the underlying principles of it encourage democracy, but because I feel it is the voice of the people to the representatives of this House this afternoon.

A few weeks ago we had a motor coach party from Luzerne County to Harrisburg, and there were upward of 1200 people who attended that session here in the House, at their own expense, for the purpose of manifesting to this House the interest of the people back home in this particular measure. It has only been two and a half years since there was any foreign invasion of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties. The consumers of water at that time were satisfied with the prices, and those who had investments in the company were satisfied with the returns on the money that they had invested. Then the Federal Water Company came in and took over the situation there, and came to the conclusion that there were hidden treasure in Luzerene and Lackawanna counties. From that time on until the present time, the best men that the people of Luzerene and Lacakawanna could employ as attorneys and engineers have worked on this proposition and this bill is the result of their work. This bill, as it comes to all of you tonight, has had careful consideration by the best men that we could get to work upon it.

It came to the Senate and the Senate passed it without opposition on the second vote.

My friends, I don't see why we should be so careful in this matter of overcharging the people with what this bill proposes, when we had no consideration for the people when a corporation that was next to criminal came in there and encroached upon their rights as Americans and practiced extortion to an extent that was criminal, in the opinion of most of the people.

Mr. Turner has said that two thousand are not sufffficient to petition the court for a water district. We knew that if the number was greater than that, it would be an endless task because the signatures would be contested and it would take the courts months to go over.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Luzerne to yield the floor for just a moment?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerene yield to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that two thousand was too many. I said that it was adequate, but that it might be too many in other counties.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, Oh, I understood you to say it was insufficient. Two thousand, I am sure, is sufficient to petition the court.

Then Mr. Turner said that two counties can join in this, and that the majority of the signers, as I understood him, might be in that county that was not so much interested or would not have the property of the company. That is not so. Where the majority of the signers come from that court has jurisdiction. Then, again, he said that $6,000 would be a prohibitive rate to pay in smaller localities. That may be true, but if that is true, they still have their system, so they have nothing to lose in that case.

My friends, I will conclude by asking the members to vote for this bill, because it is a democratic bill and because it grants to the people what they have asked for.

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to correct a mistake in regard to the $6,000. On page 14, line 5, it says that the court shall fix the compensation of the members of the board, which shall not exceed $6,000. Now, that might be $600 or any amount up to $6,000, but the court fixes the compensation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 15, 1931.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk offered the following prayer:

Thou God of Infinite Wisdom, we thank Thee that Thou dost govern all things according to Thy wisdom and infinite knowledge. We pray that we may recognize Thee as our Friend, and gladly submit to Thy divine will.

We are so limited in our understanding of things, and so constricted in our vision that we see things from varied angles; and we pray that Thou mayest lead us to greater heights, where we may gain a clearer view of things and have a better understanding of life's mysteries. Thus may we come to a greater unanimity of opinion and greater accord in action.

Forgive us of all our offenses, we ask in our Redeemer's Name. Amen.

We bless Thy name, dear Lord, for the rest of the night and for the joys of the new day. E'er we take up the task of law making this morning hour, may we each hear Thy whisper:

"My son, forget not My laws; but let thine heart keep My commandments;

For length of days, and long life, and peace shall they add to thee.

Let not mercy and truth forsake thee; bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart.

So shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on the principal page of this morning's "Reading Times" there appears an article coming from the Associated Press on the vote on House Bill No. 280, known as the "City Manager Bill." In that article, in bold type, there appears the following:

"Reading's two Socialist representatives, Hoopes and Mrs. Wilson, voted against the measure. Representatives Ruth of Bernville, voted for the measure. Sarig, Temple and Squibb of Birdsboro were recorded as not voting.

I voted in a loud, clear voice, and I checked up the official records in the office of the Chief Clerk, and I find that I am officially recorded as voting aye. So, this merely happens to be an oversight on the part of the press. Whatever sins of omission and commission I may be guilty of, ducking is not one of them, and I merely call attention to this so that the members of the press may, in justice to myself, and in order that this matter may be placed properly before my constituents, make this correction. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION NO. 22

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 22, Printer's No. 119.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, In the early days of the Commonwealth real estate was practically the only form of wealth and was consequently selected as the principal object of State and local taxation, and

Whereas, The Commonwealth as early as one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, realized that real estate was bearing an unjust burden of taxation and ceased its collection of taxes from this source, and

Whereas, The burden of local taxation is constantly mounting especially for the support of public schools, and

Whereas, Wealth, estimated to be twice as great as that represented by real property, does not contribute directly in taxation to the support of public schools, and

Whereas, This wealth has been accumulated by persons who have had the benefit of education in the public school system, and should contribute to the support of the public schools, and,

Whereas, The only form in which such wealth is now taxed is under the four mills tax on intangible personal property, the injustice of which tax is admitted by all students of taxation, because it taxes the principal of investments without regard to income, and

Whereas, It is the sense of the General Assembly that before any change is made in the local tax system, it should be advised as to the amount of the probable revenue to be derived from a tax on income and the loss resulting to counties and the Commonwealth by the repeal of the four mills tax on intangible personal property, including the tax on corporate indebtedness, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Department of Internal Affairs shall, as soon as possible, ascertain the approximate amount which might be raised from a tax on earned and unearned income at a flat rate of two per centum with exemptions equal to those granted by the Federal Government, and also the amount now collected by the counties and the Commonwealth under the four mills tax on intangible personal property, including the tax on corporate indebtedness, and to make report thereof in detail to the General Assembly in session, or the one first convening after such study has been completed. Said report shall include figures based on the latest data available at the time it is made.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this resolution was presented on March 2nd, and is a companion resolution of that resolution presented some time ago, acted upon by this House and concurred in by the Senate. I shall only take a moment of your time.

The object of this resolution is that it may be possible in the Department of Internal Affairs to procure the necessary data so that it may be used in the future in any bills moving toward legislation on the matter of taxaiton. I had the unanimous consent of the House in the passage of a companion resolution and the unanimous consent of the Senate. It merely means that it is having the endorsement of the legislature of Pennsylvania and its approval so that anyone in the future may seek for those statistics for the purpose of intelligently solving the most vital problem before the people of Pennsylvania today, namely that of taxation.

I am not going to take more of your time this morning than just to call your attention to the fact that they raised the question in the Senate, feeling that it might add expense, and I had the matter taken up by the Statistician to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who explained to their satisfaction that it wouldn't add any cost to procure that data, which is desired by this resolution and its companion, unless it were necessary to send out over the state questionaires to obtain additional dtaa, and that they assure us would only cost a small sum of money. To my mind so vital is the problem that it seeks to solve that even if it would cost several times a hundred dollars to get it, we should get it, but I have no desire of pressing one dollar of extra expense on the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would like very much to have the unanimous consent of this House and also that of the Senate, so that who ever may approach the subject, with a view to gaining the necessary data, may have the assurance, as they approach that office and make that request, that it has the unanimous consent of this House in representing its constituency, looking forward to the solving of this vital problem.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 920, printer's number 511, be referred back to the committee for the reason that in the committee I objected to the bill's being put out until it had been before a sub-committee. I was the only one there that voted no that it be put out. I do not think that any other bill such as this bill of Mr. Wheeler, should be put out without further consideration by the Committee. There seems in my mind a disposition, or I might be severe enough to say that I think there is a little clique. I therefore object, to this bill's being put out on third reading, and I move that the bill be referred back to the committee to be considered by a sub-committee as all bills should be. The bill is fair in principle, but it is only for the purpose of making an allocation and that allocation should be considered by the committee first. Therefore, if I can have a second, I will move that this bill be referred back.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am at a loss to know what to say in the move made by my colleague from Beaver. There was a meeting of the Highways Committee last week, at which this particular bill was reported out unanimously, with the exception of one vote, and that vote as my colleague from Beaver has stated was his own. At the same meeting of the Committee, at which 29 were present, more than a majority, the gentleman from Beaver stated that he was in favor of the bill and approved its principle as he told you this morning. Therefore, the only point there could be in asking that it be sent back to committee would be to delay the progress of this program. These amendments proposed have been inserted, and the bill has passed second reading. It means that the bill will be reprinted, and, as far as I am concerned, I surely want every member of the House to know exactly what this bill means before it is signed, but I can see no point in returning it to the Committee on Highways since the gentleman from Beaver has already expressed himself favorably on the bill. I, therefore ask you to vote this motion down.

Mr. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, it is true that I did say the bill was a good bill in principle, but at the same time I believe that the bill should have been referred to the sub-committee, and I so expressed myself. I don't think the committee had anything to do with the amendments and I feel that it is not fair to the members of this House, as well as to myself, to allow the bill to be speedily put through until it has been amended. There was a bill along yesterday from Philadelphia that would fit into this bill all right, and my motion to put that bill out was turned down, because they wanted this bill. I don't know whether it is in order or not, but understand I feel that it is not fair, and, therefore, I ask the members of this House of support a fair proposition, and that is, to have this bill referred back to the committee, and that committee appoint a sub-committee to consider the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 119, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws three hundred fifty-seven) entitled "An Act prohibiting the manufacture of gambling machines and providing penalties" extending the provisions of the act to the selling transporting snipping exhibiting possession and storage of gambling machines

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill, I move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor having returned to the floor of the House, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, as the second to the motion, I agree to the withdrawal.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Moore, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Will the sponsor of the bill explain that part of the bill that says "It is unlawful for any person to sell, transport, ship, exhibit, possess or store any device used or intended to be used for gambling"?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say that this is an amendment to the act of 1925 and as originally drawn it added another, the provision to take care of the storage of voting machines. At the request of some gentlemen from Philadelphia I recommitted the bill and further amendments have been made by members of the Philadelphia delegation, and they can explain it better than I can.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you is probably prompted by a very holy thought, but the bill as drawn is very broad, so broad that every shopkeeper, every merchant, every storekeeper of any kind, that displays a pack of playing cards, displays any device that can be used or can be intended to be used for gambling, a checker board, dominoes, bridge tables, or any article—Mr. Speaker, I hardly knew there were so many devices that could be used for gambling. I hear all about me suggestions such as pool tables, bridge tables, billiard tables—apparently there are plenty of expert gamblers about me here, one has even suggested to me the little innocent game of marbles.

Mr. Speaker, to come back to the serious part of the bill, if you will look at the bill you will find that it reads this way, "That it is unlawful for any person to exhibit or possess any machine or device used or intended to be used for gambling." Now a deck of cards in a merchant's window is a device that can be used for gambling. The bill is evidently intended to stop the use of slot machines. If the bill started and stopped with slot machines, there could be no objection to it, but the bill is so broad that it includes every device, every thing imaginable, that any man can by any stretch of the imagination use for gambling, and I ask you to vote no on the bill as drawn.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I stated a moment ago, this bill is an amendment to the act of 1925. If my memory serves me correctly, in 1925, six years ago, Mr. Sowers made the same speech in opposition to the original bill. This bill was introduced at the request of three district attorneys of western Pennsylvania. I have no interest in it, and at the request of some members I put the bill on the postponed calendar, I had it recommitted and it was amended, and now I renounce any further connection with the bill. I don't give a hoot what happens to it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING HONORABLE LOUIS SCHWARTZ

Mr. SOWERS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 15th, 1931.

Two score and three years ago, according to the State Manual, there was born somewhere, and later came to this country one christened, and since known as, Louis Schwartz; The years that have passed since that coming have seen that child become a leader in the real estate and insurance business in the city of brotherly love, have seen him elevated to high business and political standing, and now find him an honored Member of this House;

Such business success and political preferment reflects ability and amiability and should be recognized by this House, therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend our kindest, happiest and most sincere congratulations to our fellow Member, as well as our felicitations and that we urge upon him the propriety of celebrating this, his natal day, in any way to our advantage, commensurate with the dignity of this House, and that a copy of this resolution be handed by the Chief Clerk of the House to the said Honorable Louis Schwartz.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, today finds one of our members forty-three years young and better than he ever was before. Today finds him the worthy father of a good milk bill. Today finds him the worthy father of two children that he informs me were raised on milk. Members of the House, my colleague has served here for three sessions. He has had a number of birthdays while he was here and judging from the parties he has attended I think he has had a number of birthdays other than his own. He came up to this House from Philadelphia and has served Philadelphia well, and I have offered this resolution as some token of our friendship for him.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Mr. PARKINSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PARKINSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 20, 1931.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 478, entitled "An act to amend article three of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled 'An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs' providing that in the annulment of the charter of a borough the territory formerly included in the borough may be created a township" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, you may recall that on last Tuesday night we had a more or less unkindly debate in which some personalities flew back and forth; and during the progress of the discussion I had occasion to make some remarks. I prefaced my remarks by stating it was an occasion about which none of us in the future would feel very proud; and I think the situation was such, last week, that, now that we have had opportunity to discuss and consider what was said and done, none of us is very proud of what was done and said. Personalities were indulged in to a greater or less extent, and I had occasion, as a result of the confusion and uncertainty which took place in the meeting of the Committee on Judiciary General, held prior to the session on last Tuesday evening, to be uncertain in my mind and judgment as to what finally took place there as a result of the discussion as to whether the so-called minority members of the Investigating Committee should be permitted to take the majority report for the purpose of making their minority report; and I was under the impression that that report was taken by the minority members. As a result of what I read in the newspapers I had somewhat of an impression that the Governor must have had some inside information as to what was going to be reported upon; and, therefore, in the course of my talk I made these remarks:

"I am wondering whether or not the Governor, or someone speaking for the Governor, had possession of that report which was given to Senator Buckman in confidence, in order that he might be quoted in the newspapers this afternoon, before the committee met tonight."

I was rather of the impression that Senator Earnest and Senator McClure, who both immediately rose in defence of Senator Buckman, made it quite clear to everybody that that report was not given to the minority members of the committee, but since Tuesday night have been informed that they did not have that report and therefore could not have handed it to the Governor; and, therefore, if any impression I have created by these remarks of last Tuesday has been offensive, I want to say, in due justification of Senator Buckman and the rest of them, they did not have the report in their possession and, therefore could not have conveyed it to the Governor.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for life, as we reassemble here tonight. Through perils and through afflictions, Thou hast preserved us in health and strength to face the duties of another week. We thank Thee that Thou hast not dismissed us as unprofitable servants, but Thou dost still give us each a place to serve in the ranks of those who love their fellowmen.

As we face the tasks of the new week, help us to remember how seriously our actions here may affect those who have entrusted us with authority. We would not be at ease and cry "peace, peace," when there is no peace. If our fellowmen are in affliction, how shall we be at ease? If they ask of us for bread, shall we for bread give them a stone? Dear God, give us the good sense to refuse to be comforted until we shall have first of all ministered comfort to those who are worthy, in Thy name.

The days that try the souls of men are upon us. We would not compromise with sin, nor would we bring reproach upon the fair name of this Commonwealth by an unworthy act or deed. Rather, we would look to Thee for courage and strength from on high that we might do the right as God shall give us to see the right. And when Thy name is honored and respected, we will be satisfied, through Christ. Amen.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE RAILROAD RATES.

Mr. CAUFFIEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, April 20, 1931.

Whereas, By reason of unfair and preferential transportation rates granted to more remotely lying coal fields, Pennsylvania has lost its normal natural advantages arising out of the nearness of its coal fields to the great consuming centers of the country, which has resulted in great loss to the coal industry, and has affected the prosperity and caused the inconvenience of nearly ten millions of people, and the actual suffering of many thousands; and

Whereas, Through this system of unfair preferentials, it has become possible to transport coal from a distant point through or around Pennsylvania coal fields for less freight charges than from the Pennsylvania fields; and

Whereas, This system of preferentials has created in Pennsylvania economic distress, not only to the capital and labor involved in the coal district, but to practically every line of business and every profession, because of the direct or indirect dependence of Pennsylvania's prosperity upon the normal functioning of the coal industry; and

Whereas, By reason of these preferentials, Pennsylvania coal with a six hundred mile haul is, in many instances, unable to compete at point of market with coal which has been hauled fourteen hundred miles and more; and

Whereas, The prosperity of the coal regions will never be restored and will never become normal until a change is made and until this unfair and unjustifiable preference given to districts at a greater distance, and mining its coal under labor conditions amounting to practical slavery, is abolished, and until the preferential rates now in force are superseded by fair and equitable rates; and

Whereas, The prosperity of Pennsylvania in great measure depends upon the prosperity of the coal regions of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The right to use its natural markets, unfettered and unhampered by artificial, unnatural, unfair and preferential restrictions, is necessary to the prosperity of Pennsylvania's coal districts; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of Pennsylvania calls upon the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States to fully, fairly and impartially investigate the rates now existing and charged for coal haulage from Pennsylvania districts as compared with rates for coal haulage from other and more distant coal fields to the same point of market, and in making such investigation to have in mind labor conditions and the standards of living of miners engaged in producing coal in the various coal districts within and without this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Members in the Congress of the United States from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be urged to exert every possible influence to cause such investigation to be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission and to bring about a change in the unfair preferential rates now existing; and be it further

Resolved, That this Legislature, believing that the prosperity of Pennsylvania depends, in a great measure, upon the prosperity of each of its various industries, urges upon all of the departments of the State government, using or purchasing coal for fuel, the necessity of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature, in order to secure that prosperity for the Commonwealth desired by its citizens, urges upon them the necessity and propriety of purchasing and using only Pennsylvania coal; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each Member of the House of Representatives of the United States from Pennsylvania, and to each of the two United States Senators from Pennsylvania, to the Chief Clerk of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, to the President of the United States, and to the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1357, Printer's No. 498, on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Wade,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1357, entitled:

An Act relating to insurance; making all casualty or surety policies or contracts of insurance null and void and terminating all liability of the insurance company thereunder unless the premium thereunder is paid within a certain period; and requiring policies and contracts to contain stipulations to that effect.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor to explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill provides that premiums on a fire insurance policy be paid, in casualty insurance companies, within forty-five days of the time it is issued or the policy will become void.

Mr. TAHL. Will that make it possible for an insured to get further credit than forty-five days on any insurance?

Mr. WADE. No, it would not make it absolutely necessary for him to make payment, settlement by note I think would be sufficient.

Mr. TAHL. Could not the insurance company at this time refuse to deliver a policy if they didn't think the insured is good and financially responsible? In other words, would not these insurance companies collect insurance?

Mr. WADE. No, I would not say that. I would say this is a measure that was sponsored by the Agent's Association and possibly does not attract the interest at all of the company.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WADE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1362, Printer's No. 499, on page 6 of today's calendar, bills of final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Wade,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1362, entitled:

An Act relating to insurance; making all fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance, with the exception of fire insurance policies or contracts of insurance issued by domestic mutual fire insurance companies, null and void and terminating all liability of the insurance company thereunder unless the premium thereunder is paid within a certain period; and requiring policies and contracts to contain stipulations to that effect.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if there is any provision in this act for notice to the mortgagee?

Mr. WADE. No, there is not.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it has been a law for some considerable time that in all insurance policies, the mortgagee shall in all instances receive notice of cancellation of policies within a certain time designated in the notice. If there is no such provision in this act, I consider the act as bad.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 598.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 16, 1931.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith without my approval, House Bill No. 598, Printer's No. 220, entitled, "An act to amend section ten of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred ten) entitled 'An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties,' as amended extending the length of professional bouts to fifteen rounds."

This bill would amend the so-called "Boxing Law" by legalizing fifteen-round championship bouts in Pennsylvania.

In my judgement ten rounds are sufficient to establish superiority in any boxing match Tunney won the championship of the world from Dempsey in Philadelphia in a ten-round bout. A number of championships in the lighter classes have been decided under our existing law. Moreover, boxing matches prolonged to fifteen rounds may, and often do, result in beating men up to the point of brutality.

There is no good reason why championship matches should extend to fifteen rounds. The proposed change in our present law is unnecessary.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. JAFFE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. EDWIN P. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1428, entitled:

An Act authorizing the county commissioners with the approval of the court of common pleas in counties of the third class, to establish a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners; fixing their salaries payable by the county; defining the powers and duties of such board; regulating the assessment of persons, property and occupations for county, borough, town, township, school and poor purposes; authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors and clerks; providing for their compensation payable by such counties, abolishing the office of ward, borough and township assessors so far as the making of assessments and valuations for taxation is concerned, and providing for the acceptance of this act by cities.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it has just come to my attention that there seems to be some misunderstanding in reference to this bill.

This bill is a third-class county bill only.

During this session the members from the third class counties have made an effort to get together upon a bill in reference to assessments in third class counties, and this bill was the agreement of the members from the third class counties.

There is a condition that exists in Luzerne County under the Act of 1905, and this bill would allow Luzerne County to go ahead without being interefered with in any way.

Since that time there has been some question raised by Luzerne County in reference to some provisions that they would like to see inserted. However, as the time is getting late, we would like to see this bill pass in the House. We are endeavoring to get together with the different members of the third class counties to iron out the difficulties. I see no reason why, under the circumstances, this bill should in any way be delayed in the House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill and the companion bill No. 923, which follows it, is designed to continue the legislative good roads program of 1929, to advance the new rural road program of 1931 and to assure each county in the state a definite share in the benefits of highway construction. There is nothing new or strange about this bill. It simply continues on a somewhat reduced scale the good work begun at the session of 1929.

One of the features of the highway program of the last session was the bill which I sponsored with the collaboration of my colleague, the gentleman from Elk.

This bill appropriates for the same purpose, namely, to assist in the completion of the improvement of the state highway system, eighteen million dollars. The appropriation for that purpose at the session of 1929 was twenty-three million five hundred thousand dollars. Owing to the fact that there are fewer maximum counties to be taken care of at this session, the general effect of the appropriation of eighteen million dollars toward the completion of the state highway is more advantageous to the lagrer and wealthier counties than was the case at the session of 1929. A tabulation of the figures has been prepared and placed in the post office box of each member here, so that I shall not presume upon your patience to go into the details of allocation, except to say that it has been a mathematical calculation and, so far, as possible, is equitably apportioned.

The next feature of the bill is the appropriation of six and one-half million for new construction on the twenty thousand mile system, which we approved on a recent occasion. This money is apportioned on the basis of mileage actually taken over.

The next feature is the appropriation to the county of the first class, namely Philadelphia, of one million five hundred thousand dollars for city streets on highway routes. At the last session this appropriation was seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The increase is believed to be adequate to maintain properly the more than one hundred miles of city streets on through state highway routes in the county of Philadelphia. It must be remembered that many of those streets are forty feet in width, and are subject to much heavier traffic than is the case in other smaller cities of the Commonwealth.

The next feature is the appropriation of two million dollars to the state highway department for the maintenance and construction of streets in cities of the second class, second class A and third class.

The final feature of the bill is the appropriation of two and one-half million for purposes of township reward. This amount is believed to be necessary to take care of bridges over ten feet in length on the new system, which will not be assumed by the state.

Gentlemen, this bill represents the desires and demands of many members of this House and of the overwhelming majority of the Committee on Highways. It represents bills which have been introduced by other members and which have been incorporated in committee in the bill which I introduced on March 3rd.

It is well to remember that no allocation bill can be so perfect as to please every county in the state to the extent which that county would desire to be pleased. However, any allocation bill of this sort that is carried out on equitable basis and apportioned mathmetically to all sections of the state must be better than no program at all.

Most important of all, in conclusion, I wish to say it is my belief and it is the belief of many members here that it is essential for this House to adopt at this session some program of highway construction before we, as members of the legislature, go back home. It is important most of all for this reason: Any equitably distributed program, such as this must constitute, is a very vital factor in a long range for assisting in the elimination of unemployment. No money is better expended in combatting unemployment than money expended for highway construction. The money is turned over many times. It goes into transportation, into materials, into board bills, into fuel bills and, best of all, into the pay rolls, and it is a pay roll that includes unskilled labor as well as some small proportion of skilled labor. The enactment of this legislation will, we confidently believe, turn into productive channels a considerable sum of money and constitute a notable step toward meeting the problem of unemployment which is now upon us.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

UNITED STATES SENATOR JAMES J. DAVIS INTRODUCED

The SPEAKER. The House of Representatives of Pennsylvania is honored this night by the presence of a very distinguished guest, no less a personage than United States Senator Davis, and I have great pleasure and honor in inviting the Senator to the desk and tendering to him the gavel and hearing what he has to say.

ADDRESS OF UNITED STATES SENATOR JAMES J. DAVIS

Mr. SPEAKER. It is very nice of you to present me to the members of the House this evening. I am just on my way from Washington to Reading, Pa., to attend a convention of Steel Workers, and then I go to Wilkes-Barre for the purpose of dedicating the Kirby Health Center there.

I know you are very busy and I, therefore, want to return the gavel to you, because I am sure they would rather have a regular presiding officer than to trust one who comes from the Senate of the United States.

The SPEAKER. On behalf of the House, Senator Davis, I extend to you our felicitations for your kindly remarks this evening.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this legislation that we have been voting on is known as the Philadelphia Emergency Loan Legislation. On March 9, the Senate concurred in the House amendments, the bill went to the Governor, and subsequently was recalled from the Governor, because he was not prepared at that time to grant all of the borrowing authority for which the bill then provided.

You will recall that I pointed out to you when I last discussed this measure that by its provisions the Emergency Borrowing Power of the city of Philadelphia would be increased from two million dollars to eight million dollars, an increase of six million dollars. Of that increase, three million dollars, or a sum not in excess of three million dollars, was intended to be appropriated by ordinance of council to what is commonly known as the Committee on unemployment relief.

The Governor, on April 3rd, 1931, in response to a personal inquiry made of him wrote me a letter, wherein in part he says the following:

"In view of the foregoing, I suggest that you introduce without delay one bill for an increase of three million dollars in the borrowing capacity of Philadelphia for the present year, the money to be used for Unemployment Relief through the Lloyd Committee; and that you introduce another bill providing for the other three million dollars for the uses of the City. This suggestion is based on the evident desirability of insuring the Lloyd Committee loan. It should not be endangered by tying it up with the second three millions, because of the possibility that I may be obliged to refuse to approve the latter.

"The procedure I recommend will also give me time in which to make further investigation of the reasons for and against the latter loan."

The latter loan is not the loan that is provided for by the amendments which I will soon introduce. The latter loan applies only to that portion of the increase which City Councils can use by appropriation for municipal purposes. The Governor refers to the Lloyd Committee Emergency Loan Fund, and in strict compliance with the Governor's suggestion and particularly to bring early relief to an urgent emergency that exists in Philadelphia, because of the unemployment situation, I shall now present to this House amendments strictly in accordance with the Governor's suggestions, and, since to amend this bill at this time requires the unanimous consent of the House I humbly bespeak your unanimous co-operation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1 by inserting before the word "during" in the last line of the title the words "for unemployment relief".

Amend page 1, line 9, by striking out after the word "aggregate" the word "[six]" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "three".

Amend page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "dollars" the figures "[($6,000,000)]" and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "($3,000,000)".

Amend page 3 by inserting between lines 13 and 14 the following: "Section 2. The proceeds of any loan or loans created under the provisions of this act shall be used only for unemployment relief."

Amend page 3, line 14, by striking out after the word "Section" the figure "[2]" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "3".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.
